

The enable literal means to start a new execution of a behavior (compare to resume).

The disable literal means a termination of an executing behavior that can only be started again from the beginning (compare to suspend).